Re: Draft EIR/EIS
Cadiz Groundwater
Supplement

Nov 2, 2000

P19

The concept of sullyng and draining a pristine aquifer, based in an already beleaguered Mojave National Park, with the results being, most likely, detrimental to the ecosystem, while benefitting a corporation (Cadiz, Inc.) is unconscionable. That being said, The Supplemental Environmental Report of Oct. 20th, fails to address the flaws existing in the original document, which was poorly executed to begin with.

P19-1

Not only are future plans or monitoring addressed, but the entire plan continues to present an environmental threat too great to be patched over by a supplement.

Sincerely,
Cathy Danzeisen
